Icy stretches bringing some difficult driving conditions

What to expect

- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy stretches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

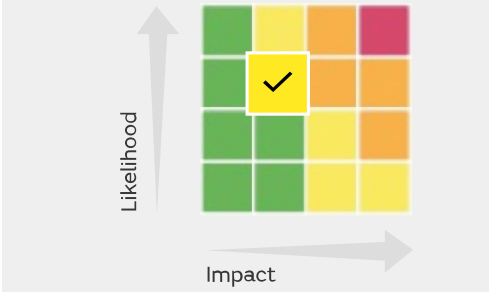
Further details

As showers continue to ease, clearing skies will allow ground temperatures to fall below freezing, and with wet surfaces, icy stretches will readily form on untreated roads and pavements.

What should I do?

Keep yourself and your family safe when it is icy. Plan to leave the house at least five minutes earlier than normal. Not needing to rush, reduces your risk of accidents, slips, and falls.

If you need to make a journey on foot, try to use pavements along main roads which are likely to be less slippery.



✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts

Similarly, if cycling, try and stick to main roads which are more likely to have been treated.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
